6. [redacted] Talked with Robert Smart indicating the Director would very much like to set a date to meet with the CIA Subcommittee of House Armed Services. I indicated that the Director generally wished to meet regularly with the Subcommittee and for this meeting he would want to discuss the organizational changes that he has approved. After discussing possible times, Mr. Smart indicated that it was simply impossible for the Subcommittee to meet with the Director this week although he would speak to the Chairman about the Director's wishes.

7. [redacted] Talked with William Darden to see if the Director could meet with the CIA Subcommittee of Senate Armed Services this week. I indicated that it was the Director's desire to meet regularly as I had indicated before and for this meeting the Director wished to bring the Subcommittee up to date on organizational changes which have been approved. Mr. Darden indicated that Committee meetings and Subcommittee meetings were fully scheduled for the rest of this week and he thought it would be impossible although I suggested we could possibly meet at nine o'clock preceding their ten o'clock meeting on Thursday. Mr. Darden said he did not believe this would be possible; however, he will check the matter with the Chairman and advise.
